ANNUAL STATISTICAL REPORT

TORONTO POLICE SERVICE

Published June 2005

Preamble

The statistical data used for the production of the Toronto Police Service's Annual Statistical Report is derived from a number of computer sources. These systems include, but are not limited to:

- eCOPS - Enterprise Case Occurrence Processing System,
- COPS - Computerized Occurrence Processing System,
- CIPS - Criminal Information Processing System.

These computer sources are considered to be 'live' as offences reported may be entered into their databases on a daily basis. For example, it is not unusual for historic crimes such as sexual assaults, to be reported year(s) after the offences have been committed. Those types of offences are counted in the year that the offence occurred and not when they've been reported. This may result in a minor variance occurring to some numbers reported in previous Annual Statistical Reports.

The crime information contained in this report provides offence based statistics. In offence based statistics, all offences involved in an incident are counted. This differs from incident based statistics where more than one offence may have occurred in the incident but only the most serious offence is counted in the crime statistics.

Comparing Crime Statistics

The Toronto Police Service reports its crime statistics using the Offence based method (counting all offences). Other Canadian Police Services and organizations such as Statistics Canada report their crime statistics using incident based statistics (the most serious offence per incident is counted). For example, a suspect unlawfully enters into a dwelling unit and takes several items and upon leaving the house, the suspect encounters the homeowner. An altercation occurs and the suspect assaults the homeowner. In the offence based method this occurrence would be counted as a break and enter and an assault. This occurrence would only be counted as one offence under the incident based counting method.

Incident based statistics cannot be directly compared or evaluated against offence based statistics. Furthermore, statistical crime data may be categorized using predetermined definitions in response to specific questions or criteria. Prior to comparing statistics from various other sources, the method used to categorize the data must be identified in order to ensure that the same type of information is being analyzed.

Care must always be taken when comparing statistics published in this report to reports published by other agencies such as Statistics Canada.

INTRODUCTION

The Toronto Police Service publishes crime statistics based upon the number of reported offences whereas Statistics Canada publishes crime statistics based on reported incidents of crime. In offence based statistics, all offences involved in an incident are included, where as in the incident based statistics, more than one offence may be included in one incident but only the most serious crime is included in the crime statistics. So care should be taken when comparing statistics published by both agencies.

Types of Offences

Violent Offences are crimes involving the application or threat of application of force to a person.

Property Offences involve unlawful acts with respect to property but do not involve the use or threat of violence against an individual.

Other Criminal Code offences include the remaining non-traffic Criminal Code offences that are classified as neither violent nor property offences.

C. D. S. A. Offences involve offences under the federal Controlled Drugs and Substances Act. These offences comprise of possession, trafficking, importation or cultivation of various illicit, controlled and restricted drugs.

Other Federal Statute offences include violations under all other federal statutes. They may include Bankruptcy Act, Customs Act, Excise Act, Immigration Act.

Provincial Statute offences include all violations under provincial statutes excepting traffic related statutes. Examples are Coroner's Act, Environmental Protection Act, Mental Health Act and Liquor Licence Act. The majority of these offences come under Liquor Licence Act.

General Information

Due to change in the interpretation of the Law, C. D. S. A. charges laid by Toronto Police Service are considerably lower in 2003.

Offences published in a particular year include offences reported to or become known to police during the year. However, offences occurred in the past can be reported in a future year. A typical example is the sexual assault category. Similarly, concluded offences include those committed during previous years.

In September 2003 the Toronto Police Service implemented a new records management system as a result statistics in this report for years prior to 2003 have been recalculated.

- Total calls for service through Communications Centre decreased 2.8% while the total dispatched calls for service decreased 6.2% in 2004 over 2003. The Service reaches out to wider sections of the community by providing service in languages other than English through the AT&T Language Line Service. In 2004 there were 3,265 calls for service received in 55 languages other than English.

Glossary of Terms

Adult and Youth Charges: Refers to the total number of charges and alternative dispositions laid by police against adults (18 years or older) and youths (12 to 17 years of age).

Incident: An occurrence of an event (non-criminal or criminal). An incident may consist of a number of offences.

Offence: An offence is categorized as a violation against the Criminal Code of Canada, the Federal Controlled Drugs and Substances Act and other Federal, Provincial and Municipal statutes. Offences are counted in the year they occurred rather than in the year the offence is reported to the police. The Toronto Police Service counts all offences occurring in a single incident. Statistics Canada's Uniform Crime Report (UCR) count only the most serious offences per incident.

Substantiated Offence: When an alleged criminal act is reported to the police, the offence is counted as a reported incident. The Toronto Police Service then conducts a preliminary investigation to determine the soundness of the report. In some occasions a crime reported to the police proves to be unsubstantiated. The unsubstantiated incidents are deducted from the number of reported offences to develop genuine offences data.

Clearance Rate: A Criminal offence can be considered cleared when a charge is laid, recommended or cleared by other methods. For example, an offence is considered cleared when it has been solved. Cleared by a charge being laid indicates that a person(s) has been charged in connection with an incident. A clearance rate is calculated by dividing genuine offences reported by the total offences cleared in a year. The clearance rate may exceed 100% in a given year due to the fact that offences cleared may be offences that have occurred in previous years.

Property Offences: Property crime includes unlawful acts committed for the purpose of attaining property, but do not involve the use or threat of violence against an individual. Property crime includes actual and attempted motor vehicle theft, other theft, actual and attempted break and enter, possession of stolen property, and fraud

Violent Offences: Crimes involving the application or threat of application of force to a person. They include homicide, attempted murder, sexual assault, non-sexual assault, other sexual offences, abduction and robbery. Traffic incidents that result in death or bodily harm are included under Criminal Code Traffic Offences.

Other Criminal Code Offences: Includes the remaining non-traffic Criminal Code Offences that are classified as neither violent or property offences. For example mischief, bail violations, arson, and disturbing the peace are included in other Criminal Code Offences.

Criminal Code Traffic Offences: Includes dangerous driving, impaired driving, refuse breath/blood sample and failure to remain at the scene of an accident.

Drug Offences: Involves offenders under the Federal Controlled Drugs and Substances Act. These offences include possession, trafficking, import/export, and production of various illicit, controlled and restricted drugs.

Other Federal Statutes: Offences includes violations under the Youth Criminal Justice Act, Canada Health Act, Firearms Act, Immigration Act, Bankruptcy Act and other Federal statutes.

Provincial Acts: Includes all violations under Provincial statutes with the exception of traffic related statutes. Some examples include the Coroner's Act, Environmental Protection Act, Mental Health Act and the Liquor Licence Act.

Municipal Bylaws: Includes violations under the City of Toronto Municipal By-Laws.
